ROOSEVELT AND OLD GUARD

Fighting for Control of the Coming Republican State Convention in New York—The Colonel Will Have the Support of Practically the Entire Delegation From New York County.

New York, Sept. 14.—Primaries held throughout New York city show the relative positions of Theodore Roosevelt and the old guard, who are fighting for control of the coming Republican state convention, to be practically unchanged. Roosevelt will have the support of practically the entire delegation from New York county, numbering 190, while his opponents claim 109 of the 142 delegates in Kings, 24 in Queens and 8 in Richmond counties.

There were unsuccessful contests, backed by the old guard leaders, in several districts in New York county, while in Kings the friends of Colonel Roosevelt endeavored to capture some of the districts heretofore controlled by Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff of the Republican state committee, but without result.

Mr. Woodruff had expected to lose four districts in Kings, in which the leaders are recognized as progressives, but he won in all the others.

As soon as results were known at Republican state headquarters the state chairman issued the statement as follows:

"The returns from the primaries in Kings county show that, while the districts controlled by Naval Officer Kracke, Postmaster Voorhees, Representative Calder and Senator Travis have thirty-three delegates out of a total of 142, the other 109 will all support the Kings county organization and vote to ratify the votes of the state committeemen from Brooklyn in the selection of Vice President Sherman for temporary chairman of the convention.

Mack Loses His Place.

"The returns from New York county indicate that one state committee man, Harry W. Mack, has lost his place in the state committee, and that a number of the delegations to the state convention will support the state committee in the position which it has taken in the matter of temporary chairman."

Mr. Woodruff, in his statement, also claims the delegates from Richmond and Queens.

Although Chairman Woodruff says the returns indicate that a number of New York county delegates will support Vice President Sherman, the Roosevelt forces, headed by County Chairman Lloyd Griscom, claim the delegation will support the colonel almost to a man. They also count on the support of the Richmond delegation, although John Timlin, Jr., Republican leader in the county, who acted as a proxy for George Cronwell at the recent Republican state committee meeting, voted against Mr. Roosevelt for temporary chairman of the state convention.

County Chairman Griscom expressed entire satisfaction with the returns. He said:

"I am sincerely gratified by the vote of confidence which the voters have given to the present administration of the Republican committee.

"Our county will continue in our loyal support of President Taft and will lend our best efforts to upholding his hand in carrying out our party's pledges. In the state we will continue our efforts to bring about such change in the party management as will restore the confidence of the Republicans and bring about success at the polls in the autumn. We welcome the aid which former President Roosevelt will give to bring about this success."

FIRE BEING INVESTIGATED

Evidence of Incendiarism Found in Blaze at Belcourt, N. D.

Rolla, N. D., Sept. 14.—While the investigation into the cause of the fire which destroyed the Indian school at Belcourt, this county, has not been completed enough evidence has been gained to make it appear that the blaze was of incendiary origin. The school, operated by the government, was totally destroyed and there had been no fire of any kind in the building. It will be necessary to resort to the old school building for the coming year.

Hunter Killed.

Yankton, S. D., Sept. 14.—Joe Branaugh of Yankton was accidentally shot and killed at Walchtown lake, this county, while hunting ducks. He leaves a wife and family. No details of the tragedy are at hand.

Hunter Trips and Kills Wife.

Norristown, Pa., Sept. 14.—John G. Hallman of Limerick township shot and killed his wife. He was hurrying to kill a hawk that was attacking his chickens and, shotgun in hand, he tripped over a piece of carpet. The weapon was discharged, the load of shot tearing a hole in Mrs. Hallman's back.

FOUGHT TO A FINISH.

Tiger and Crocodile in a Battle in the Water.

In India a native went to bathe in a ravine. He was in the water up to his neck when a tiger on the hill above gave a leap toward its prey. But the tiger had not calculated that, since his victim was much lower than himself, a leap of the right strength for a horizontal range would carry him far beyond his mark; consequently he fell some ten feet on the other side.

Now, it happened that a hungry crocodile was at the same time drawing a bee line under water toward the native. When the crocodile had almost come upon his prey he heard a splash just in front and made a dash, bringing his enormous jaws down on the tiger's paw.

The bather nearly fainted with fright when he saw the tiger fall into the water, and for a few moments he could not understand why the creature did not devour him. Why did he persist in keeping one of his paws under water, beating savagely with the other? And the water turned red!

Then all at once the assaults of the tiger became more furious, and his growls developed into roars. The huge tail of a crocodile reared up out of the water. The obvious intention was to pull the tiger under water and drown him, and the tiger, understanding this purpose, tried to frustrate it by beating the snout of the crocodile with his other paw. But the snout was too far down, and he left much of his force on the surface of the water. His struggles became more and more feeble, and at length he disappeared altogether, only a cluster of bubbles remaining to show where he had been.

His fight, however, had been a game one, not entirely in vain, for when the bodies of the two beasts finally came to the surface it was seen that the tiger had literally torn away the whole front of the crocodile's face and had blinded it so that its victory was a useless one.—Chicago Record-Herald.

FALLING BODIES.

Their Velocity Varies According to the Force of Gravity.

A man falling from a three story building in New Orleans will not fall as fast as he would if he were in New York city. In fact, in hardly any two places will he fall with the same speed. This is because as we go toward the equator the force of gravity gets less and less, and consequently the acceleration of a falling body becomes less, and the force of impact is therefore less.

While it does not make very much difference in the injury to a person falling from a height, it does make a difference in other things. Take a rifle and fire it exactly horizontally, and if the gun is sixteen feet above the ground, say, at New York the bullet fired from such a rifle will strike the ground in exactly one second after it leaves the rifle. If the bullet has a horizontal velocity of 1,000 feet per second it will strike the earth exactly 1,000 feet away. Let us take the same rifle to a place where the force of gravity is not the same as at New York, but a good deal smaller, say two-thirds smaller. We find that if the gun is placed sixteen feet above the ground, as before, and absolutely horizontal the bullet will not fall the sixteen feet in one second, but will take over one and a half seconds to fall, thus enabling the bullet to be in the air during that length of time. Therefore it will strike the ground about 1,600 feet away. Thus it is seen that the range of a rifle is increased as it is taken toward the equator.

Of course there is no place on the earth where the force of gravity is smaller than at New York, but there are many places where the force of gravity is considerable enough to make a considerable range of rifles.—Harvard Magazine.

The Chile Tree.

Chewing gum is nothing but chicle mixed with sugar and flavoring, and chicle is the gum of a tree that grows plentifully in Mexico and Central America and that of recent years has been cultivated on a large scale in Yucatan. The chicle tree is not unlike the India rubber tree, and the gum was first shipped to America by men who believed that in it they had a perfect substitute for rubber. In this, however, they were mistaken, as it was found that the chicle gum was insoluble. Not to this day has any medium acid or alkali spirit or ether been found that will dissolve it.—Argonaut.

MILES POINDEXTER.

Progressive Republican Wins in the Washington Primaries.

POINDEXTER WINS
OUT IN WASHINGTON

Progressive Republican Carries the State.

Seattle, Sept. 14.—Scattering returns from the United States senatorial primary election indicate that Miles Poindexter, progressive Republican, has carried the state by a landslide.

It seems that he has carried Kings county, the home of Judge Thomas H. Burke, an opponent, and which probably cast 35,000 votes, or one-third of the total vote of the state. In Pierce county, the home of James M. Ashton, his nearest opponent, Poindexter is leading. In Eastern Washington Poindexter probably has carried every county.

All returns thus far received show Representative William E. Humphrey, standpatter, running behind Thomas P. Revelle, progressive, in the First district. The Democratic vote is about 3 per cent of the total.

HOT FIGHT IN NEW JERSEY

Murphy and Stokes Have Close Race for Senatorship.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 14.—Returns of the primary election in New Jersey are coming in slowly and the results can only be approximated. The polls did not close until 9 o'clock and on account of the long list of names on the tickets the counting will last far into the morning. The results as approximated are based upon estimates of partial counts. The Republican vote on United States senator has been heavy. Former Governor Murphy will receive a heavy vote in Essex county, where he will get probably 20,000, against 9,000 for Governor Stokes, but Governor Stokes' vote is heavy in Southern New Jersey. In Hudson county, where the Republican progressives seem to have won, Congressman Fowler got a heavy vote, something like 8,000 to 10,000. The long ticket in Essex county makes it difficult to estimate whether the Republican regulars or progressives have won, although the returns indicate that the progressives have made gains over last year, when, however, they were defeated.

Late returns show that the organization Republicans in Atlantic City made strenuous efforts in behalf of the senatorial aspirations of Governor Murphy, with the result that Mr. Murphy received about 8,000 votes. This, with the heavy vote received by Mr. Murphy in Essex, will probably make the contest between himself and Stokes very close.

In Cumberland county, the home of Stokes, his three candidates were defeated. Assemblyman Nichols, who, if elected, will vote against Stokes for United States senator, was nominated for the state senate, and Walter E. Turner and E. H. Whitaker, anti-Stokes men, were named for the assembly.

Cannon Will Tour New York.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Speaker Cannon has written from Danville, Ill., asking Secretary of State Koenig if it is necessary for him to have a New York state automobile registration number during a two weeks' tour of New York state which he expects to make this fall. Mr. Cannon does not indicate the purpose of his trip. He will be informed that he need not take out a license.

Farmer Badly Injured.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 14.—John Jordt, a young farmer, while playing baseball, was struck in the head by a pitched ball. He has been insensible thirty-six hours and may die.

DEMOCRAT TO SUCCEED HALEMaine Legislature Controlled by Senator's Opponents.

PLAISTED'S PLURALITY LARGE

Exceeds That Given to Governor Cobb Four Years Ago—Result in the Fourth Congressional District is Still in Doubt—Asher C. Hinds Defeats His Democratic Opponent for Congress.

Portland, Me., Sept. 14.—Complete returns of the vote for senators and representatives in the state election give the Democrats substantial majorities in both branches of the Maine legislature, which at the beginning of the new year will elect a United States senator to succeed Senator Hale, a secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general and commissioner of agriculture.

The new legislative body also probably will be called upon to carry out the declaration of the Democratic party platforms of recent years and to submit to the people the liquor prohibitory amendment to the constitution and to repeal the Sturgis liquor law enforcement act.

According to the unofficial complete returns the legislature will have a Democratic majority of 36 on joint ballot. The senate will consist of 21 Democrats and 10 Republicans, while the house will have 88 Democrats and 63 Republican members. The last legislature consisted of 122 Republicans and 60 Democrats, the Republicans having a majority of 15 in the senate and 47 in the house.

Plaisted's Plurality.

Practically complete returns on the vote for governor give Colonel Frederick W. Plaisted (Dem.) 73,644 and Governor Bert M. Fernald (Rep.) 64,812, a plurality for Colonel Plaisted of 8,832, as against a plurality of 8,064 for Governor William T. Cobb (Rep.) four years ago. The total vote of the two leading parties this year was 138,556. Four years ago it was 130,790.

Doubt still exists regarding the result in the Fourth congressional district. Representative Frank E. Guernsey of Dover, the Republican candidate, and George M. Hanson of Calais (Dem.), each claiming victory by a small plurality. In the First district Asher C. Hinds (Rep.) is elected by a plurality of about 700 over William H. Pennell (Dem.) and will occupy the seat in congress once held by Thomas B. Reed. The Second and Third districts will have Democratic representatives, D. J. McGillicuddy of Lewiston succeeding Representative John P. Swasey (Rep.) in the district which Nelson Dingley of Dingley farm formerly represented, while Samuel W. Gould of Skowhegan will be the successor to Representative Edwin C. Burleigh (Rep.), who has represented the Third district for the past eighteen years.

FIND RELICS OF REBELLION

Workmen Discover Rifles and Ammunition for Use Against Riel.

Medicine Hat, Alta., Sept. 14.—A relic of the Riel rebellion was found while men were tearing down the old Tweed building, which was the first brick building in this city. In the basement, covered by rubbish, they discovered a large quantity of Snider rifle cartridges and rifles which old-timers recall were obtained for the Medicine Hat Home Guard, a mounted body formed to repel any possible attacks by the halfbreeds under Louis Riel. The cartridges and rifles were useless on account of having been left so long in the damp.

TWO MEN KILLED IN A MINE

Ore Falls on Them and Crushes Them to Death.

Marquette, Wis., Sept. 14.—Claus Johnson and Carl Larson, two Swedish miners, were killed in the Dunn mine at Florence, Wis., by a fall of ground in one of the sub levels. The shift boss set them to work in the drift but they went back some distance to where some treacherous ground showed in the back. While moving about the two men got directly under the ore and it fell on them, snuffing out their lives.

La Crosse Strike Ended.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 14.—The strike of 200 woodworkers, which since June last has seriously interfered with the operations of three large wood-working plants here, has been settled, an agreement having been reached by which the men will return to work on the basis existing before the strike. John Humphrey, member of the state board of arbitration, effected the settlement, which will be formally ratified at a meeting of the strikers.

CAUGHT BY THE INSPECTORS

Dressmaker, Doctor and Millionaire Accused of Smuggling.

New York, Sept. 14.—Another fashionable dressmaker, who is charged with trying to smuggle foreign made goods into the country without paying the government its lawful toll, fell into the hands of the custom house officials. She is Mrs. Mary Dolan of Brookline, Mass., head of a large dressmaking firm in Boston. Mrs. Dolan was placed under arrest and arraigned before United States Commissioner Russ in Hoboken, N. J. The goods she is charged with trying to smuggle in are valued at almost $10,000.

Dr. Rudolph Menn of Chicago also had his troubles with the customs officials. He declared about $800 worth of jewelry, but the inspectors alleged he had other jewelry which he failed to declare. The jewelry was seized.

Eugene Higgins, the millionaire carpet manufacturer of Yonkers, will be given an opportunity to explain his failure to declare baggage said to amount to about $1,000.

STATEMENT ISSUED BY ROBERT W. CHANLERSays There Is No Foundation
for Recent Reports.

New York, Sept. 14.—Robert W. Chanler, whose matrimonial affairs have recently been the subject of much discussion, was in town conferring with his counsel, Sidney Harris. At the conclusion of the conference, through Mr. Harris, Mr. Chanler made his first public statement since his sudden return from Paris. Its tenor was that there was no foundation for the reports concerning his domestic affairs.

"Mr. Chanler is greatly annoyed by the prominence given his affairs," said Mr. Harris. "He is very much embarrassed by the espionage of the press. There is no litigation. He left his wife on good terms and there is no foundation for all these misleading reports. In fact, I might call the whole thing a tempest in a teapot."

Mr. Harris said he knew nothing regarding the report that the Union Trust company had been asked to produce a copy of the ante-nuptial agreement entered into between Mr. Chanler and Madame Cavalleri and he doubted that such a demand had been made. He refused to discuss Mr. Chanler's plans or stopping place in this city.

"Mr. Chanler is a private citizen and desires to be let alone," he added. "Too much already has been made of this matter."

Squaw a Shoplifter.

Pierre, S. D., Sept. 14.—Star Boy and his wife, Sioux Indians from the Rosebud reservation, were arrested on the charge of having purloined three pieces of silk from the store of C. E. Murray at Midland. When arraigned before a justice they were fined an amount, which, with the costs, reached $30. It developed that the woman was the guilty person, she having watched her chance while the attention of the clerks was drawn elsewhere and concealed the silk under her blanket.

Cattle Movement Begins.

Dickinson, N. D., Sept. 14.—The annual movement of cattle from the Missouri slope to the markets has commenced and within the past few days several trainloads have been sent out of here. The cattle are not so numerous as before, but the indications are that the season's shipments will be exceptionally heavy because of the shortage of forage.

Train Crashes Into Hack, Kills Horses and Injures Driver.

Bismarck, N. D., Sept. 14.—A stock train going at least fifteen miles an hour through the city struck a hack driven by Hans Olson. The hack was destroyed, one horse killed and the other injured so it will have to be killed. Olson had a leg and arm broken. The accident occurred at a crossing where gates are operated, but for some reason the gates were not lowered.

Sues to Recover Funds.

Bismarck, N. D., Sept. 14.—The firm of Miller & Costello, retained by the county of Stark, has started an action to recover from the county treasurer and his predecessors and their bonds the amount of money embezzled by ex-County Auditor White, who is serving a term in the penitentiary for the appropriation of about $40,000. The bondsmen are only held for $30,000 of the money.

Ballinger-Pinchot Committee to Hold Its Report.

HOLDS MEETING IN CHICAGO

Majority on the Investigating Body Makes Public a Statement in Which It is Virtually Announced That Its Verdict Will Not Be Made Public Until After the November Elections.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—After a session lasting more than five hours the representatives of the "majority" on the Ballinger-Pinchot committee made public a statement in which the announcement was made, in effect, that the verdict will not be made public until after the November elections.

Those present at the session were Senator Nelson of Minnesota, chairman; Senators Root of New York and Sutherland of Utah, Representatives McCall of Massachusetts, Olmsted of Pennsylvania and Denby of Michigan. Like a bolt of lightning from a clear sky came the announcement of the six members of the committee that they had reached no conclusion, had really not considered the evidence and after due deliberation they had decided to adjourn subject to the call of the chairman.

This means, according to explanations made by individual members of the committee, the majority report will not be given to the public until a long time after the November elections.

One of the questions discussed at length at the day's session hinged on the point as to whether the committee had authority to give out its verdict before the official report was submitted to congress. The majority opinion was that it would be an act of discourtesy to give out conclusions in advance of a report to congress.

When the committee adjourned in Washington some months ago to meet in Minneapolis on Sept. 5 unofficial announcement was made that its report would be then given publicly.

Resolution Not Pressed.

Members of the committee declared that it had been resolved the majority report could properly be made public any time whether congress was in session or not. A doubt had arisen as to the authority of the committee in the premises, and a joint resolution was offered empowering the committee to make public the report during the recess if those concerned saw fit so to act. The resolution was not pressed, according to statements made at the time, because of the belief express authorization in this connection was unnecessary.

It developed there were at least three members of the committee present who took the position that as congress created that body it was the duty of the committee to report to the respective houses, and in advance of such formal report to withhold conclusions. Accordingly, early in the meeting, it was decided to make no effort before December to whip the report of the majority into shape.

Before the committee got together there were reports that Senator Nelson held the proxy of Senator Flint, who is in Europe, and that it would be voted to make a quorum and to give publicity to the report of the majority, which is composed of the six members in Chicago and Mr. Flint.

Later it was learned Mr. Nelson had not heard from the senator, and that the question of publicity would not be considered further until his return to the United States, when a quorum could be got together.

In the statement, bearing the names of Senator Nelson and his five colleagues, it is set forth that the act creating the committee carefully defined "its powers and jurisdiction," and contained the mandate that it should report its findings and conclusions to congress. It is further pointed out that the issues involved are full of moment "to the cause of pure administration," and that the record in the case embracing 7,000 pages requires "deliberation."

A shot is taken at the course the minority pursued last week at Minneapolis, where Representative Madison of Kansas, progressive, and Senators Fletcher and Purcell and Representatives James and Graham insisted on pushing the case to a conclusion.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 14, 1910

The democrats are jubilant over their victory in Maine and well they should be. It is seldom they get a look in like that.

An exchange sizes up the political situation with emphasis as follows: "In the west the republicans go about the purification of the party within the party, but in the east they rebuke the 'old guard' by going over to the democrats.

The democrats have picked their candidate for governor, that is Frank Day who is the democratic party of Minnesota has made the selection, but he won't divulge the secret. It is quite possible that it would be fully as well to keep the matter quiet until after the November election.

Germany is excited over the purchase of 75 aeroplanes by the French government. Airships are supposed to play an important part in war and the idea seems to be that a splendid view of all the fortifications can be had from the air ship and blue prints made, but the same avenue is open to the Germans.

The Aitkin people are rejoicing over a report that the new Soo line into that town will give Aitkin a coal rate of 30 cents a ton less than that now in force on the Northern Pacific. Competition in railroad lines forces prices to their level in freight rates the same as competition in other business lines brings down prices to a point where only a fair margin of profit is made by the dealer.

Some of the insurgent congressmen who are seeking a reelection are publishing affidavits from insurgents in other states to prove to their constituents that they are the real article. The idea seems to be that it would be possible to insurge at home and stand pat in Washington, when the insurgent constituency was not looking, and it is to avoid against this that the precaution is taken. It might be well to add that not all congressmen who are flying the insurgent banner are under suspicion.

The agents of the government who are handling the liquor interests in the northern part of the state are having a strenuous time. A. A. Oliver, editor of the Walker Pioneer and who is a state land appraiser, was held up and his satchel taken from him at Bena while in the discharge of his duties on Saturday and he had the two men arrested for highway robbery. Later on Oliver's attorney had one of the government agents arrested for threatening him and he was bound over in the sum of $300 which he was not able to furnish.

AN UNSAFE PERSON

The Little Falls Transcript makes the following comment on the article in Saturday's issue of the Dispatch and reproduces the article at length: "The Transcript finds occasion to so far deviate from its established policy of taking no active part in the preliminary campaign incident to a primary election as to call the attention of its readers to the article published in another column of this issue regarding the candidacy of Ole P. Erickson for the republican nomination for state senator against S. F. Alderman, the present incumbent and a candidate to succeed himself. In no part of the 48th legislative district are Ole P. Erickson and his tactics better known than in the city of Brainerd and the article to which attention is directed, coming as it does from a Brainerd newspaper of reputed good standing and integrity in that city, should be given full credence and should serve to sufficiently enlighten many voters, not previously informed, as to Mr. Erickson's previous attitude toward that party from which he now wishes support.

"For a man with such a record to now come forward and, under the guise of a pretended republicanism, ask for that party's support is a display of unadulterated nerve seldom equalled and should receive the rebuke of every loyal republican in the 48th district. He is dominated by no worthy motive in seeking the office through the party that he has often rejected in the past, deserves no recognition at its hands and should receive none.

"Mr. Erickson's previous public record shows that he prefers his own selfish aggrandizement to either principle or party and would be an unsafe person to be entrusted with matters concerning the welfare of the people of the 48th legislative district."

N. P. TWENTY-WHEELERS

New Type of Heavy Freight Engines
Installed on the N. P. Ry.
Mountain Divisions

The Northern Pacific railway has installed a new type of heavy freight engines on its mountain divisions which have been popularly designated "twenty-wheelers."

This type of engine is the largest in existence, the engine and tender combined being ninety-four feet long.
It is in fact, a combination of two complete locomotives. The total heating surface is 6,413 square feet,
the grate area of the fire box is 84
square feet; fuel capacity 12 tons; water capacity 8,000 gallons. This locomotive is capable of pulling as many loaded freight cars as their raft gear will stand. Eleven of these engines are now doing service on the mountain divisions of the Northern Pacific railway.

COL. THORP GOT THE FLOOR

Col. Freeman Thorp Addressed the Conservation Congress at St. Paul on Favorite Subject

As predicted in the Dispatch, Col.
Thorp of Hubert, proved to be the best equipped on forestry of the delegates from Minnesota at the recent Conservation Congress in St. Paul.
His entirely new method of conserving and promoting forest growth by holding in the upland forests all the rainfall and melting snow, letting none of it run off from the surface into the streams, was in the opinion of thoughtful men the most important new suggestion to come before the congress, yet an attempt appears to have been made to prevent his getting it before the Congress, but the Pinchot branch that dominated the convention did not reckon with the old colonel's one time long experience as recognized leader in the Ohio house of representatives and briefly stated he created his opportunity by skillful perliamentary tactics and when he thus got the floor aroused the enthusiasm of the convention and fixed the attention of the whole country.

THE NATION MUST ACT

"To Raise Standard of Public Health Work," Says Dean Westbrook
of State University

AT CONSERVATION CONGRESS

His Thesis that the Federal Government Must Lead in Public Health Work

The Minnesota Association for the Prevention and Relief of Tuberculosis, of which association Mrs. C. M.
Patek and Dr. J. L. Camp are district directors of the Sixth district has shown great interest in the address mentioned below and desires its publication:

"That the federal government must lead in public health work was the main thesis of Dr. F. F. Westbrook at the Conservation Congress in discussing "Life and Health as National Assets." The work of the federal government will no more supersede or interfere with the work of the states and cities in protecting the health of people than the work of the federal bureau of education now conflicts with our local public schools.
The proposed federal bureau of health will serve the local health officers as does the educational bureau by furnishing clearing house for information, facilities for research and publication nation-wide, and a standard of sanitary work for the states to copy. That the nation is capable of setting the pace was shown, said the speaker, by the splendid work of
of the federal government in checking yellow fever in Cuba and Panama.

It will also unify under one administrative head the various bureaux in the several departments having to do with the scientific side of disease prevention, resulting in greater economy and efficiency of management. It will also attract the attention of public men and citizens generally to the hitherto unrecognized importance of public health and so foster local legislation and appropriations throughout the country.
It will tend to put medicine on a more scientific basis and to discourage both the faddist on the one hand who endeavors to cure all diseases by some blanket method and the fatalist on the other hand who does not believe in the efficiency of hygienic truth to lengthen and broaden the stream of human life."

Regular Meeting

The special meeting set for eight o'clock last night to take up the Light Board, had to adjourn as there were but four councilmen present when President of the Council Tim-

President Twohey took the chair.
There being no clerk present the president decided it was necessary to utes.

was put and duly carried.

tain a motion to adjourn.

Alderman Paine, seconded by Alderman Dieckhaus, moved to adjourn to the next regular meeting which motion was carried unanimously.

Dakota, Wisconsin and Northern Michigan, will have charge of the service at the army hall Monday worth hearing. The meeting will be interesting and one will be well paid for any effort that may be made.

To the Voters of Crow Wing County

An election is a public affair and participation in politics is a duty that belongs to every loyal citizen, whether or not he is a candidate for office. All arguments used in the selection of a candidate should be used quickly, and the means employed to retain old office-holder or to defeat a new candidate should be means which one using them would not be ashamed to let the people know. No one should hesitate to express his opinion for supporting the candidate he wishes to elect. I have a great respect for anyone who has an opinion and tells the people what he believes in. I concede the right to the papers to support the candidates they believe to be best fitted for the office, and in giving their support, they should do it openly and not try to mislead the voters by submitting a voluminous report a few days before the primaries of what a candidate, who is now in office, has done in the past.

It is not the things of yesterday
but the things of tomorrow that must engage our attention. No progressive man has a right to stand with his face toward that which is gone. Old systems having served their purpose must be discarded.
New ones, better adapted, must take their places. What inspired yesterday may repress today, and the helps of today may become the hindrances of tomorrow. Change is the hand-maid of progress, and in tearing down the old scaffolding and erecting the new about the grand structure of progressive humanity, the young men have always been the chosen workmen.

In the management of our common schools, a change of school superintendent is not going to upset our school system. If I am elected to the office I will do my best to promote the welfare of the common schools.

ALL KINDS OF MINERALS

Prof. Wm. Drummel of Texas Says
Crow Wing County Has Iron,
Lead, Zinc and Coal

Prof. William Henry Drummel, a mineralogist and oil specialist of Houston, Texas, passed through Brainerd yesterday on his way from Pequot to Duluth and the western Messaba range. He is the inventor of an instrument by which he claims he can detect the presence of oil and minerals. He said Crow Wing county had lead, zinc, iron and coal. He had a number of specimens which he is going to examine and determine if the ore was simply float ore.

GOES TO COLLEGE

Assistant Secretary Warren of the
Y. M. C. A. Leaves for William
Jewell College

Mr. C. W. Warren, assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will leave Thursday for Liberty, Mo., where he will attend the William Jewell College.

He began his work at the local institution on June 1st and has been an active and willing worker for its success. He has greatly aided the general secretary in bringing many men into closer touch with the institution. As a worker he was earnest and willing; as a companion he was cheerful and a good conversationalist; and as a friend he was honest and frank. He has been a great advocate of what the Y. M. C.
A. stands for, "Good Fellowship Among Men," and exemplified it by his cheerful words and willing help.

He has made many friends who will regret his leaving very much.
They all wish him success in his future undertakings and hope he will enjoy his college life.

He will be succeeded by Mr. Geo.
Steele who will also act as physical director.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Once more the high school notes will occupy a column in our daily paper and we hope you will enjoy reading them for another session.

School opened on Tuesday, Sept.
6th, with a much larger enrollment than last year, and this increase is seen especially in the freshman and sophomore classes. The pupils realize that work has commenced in earnest except a few freshmen who do not seem to be quite acquainted with the various rooms. However, we are glad to welcome them and hope they will become brilliant during their four years of high school life. This year the courses in Vergil and English History have been temporarily discontinued while a course in U. S. history and a second year of German has been adopted.

The appearances for a good football team this year are very encouraging and a desire to have a good class spirit is prevalent.

We had all hoped for the completion of the gymnasium but we will endeavor to boost more than ever for such a room is one of our greatest necessities.

Miss Elliott, of Mt. Vernon, Pa.,

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"The Cow and the Moon"

Charles A. Sellon's "The Cow and the Moon" scored a hit at the Brainerd opera house Monday night. The house was crowded, all seats being taken on the main floor and the balconies were full to overflowing.

Sellon, as "Happy" was a whole show in himself. Miss Hazel Rice as "Innocence" filled her part admirably. Others who were very good were Messrs. H. E. Allen, C. L. Patterson, C. A. Sterling, Will M. Hannel and Robert L. White.

The chorus of girls was attractive and the costumes are all new and beautifully designed. Numbers which pleased the audience were "If They are all as Nice as You" duet by Innocence and Happy; Ching a Ling a Loo by Albert and the chorus; The Song of the Sacred Cow; and the Haughty Hottentots. The play was well staged and presented and pleased the large audience.

Another feature commented on was the new dress the program appeared in and Manager Frank G. Hall of the Brainerd opera house received many compliments.

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn and Other Stomach Misery Goes Before You Realize it

Why not get some now—this moment, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion? A little Diapiesin gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good test, then take Pape's Diapiesin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eruptions of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50c for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of indigestion and upset stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take gas from stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and, besides, one single dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapiesin works, your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all stomach misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to take a little Diapiesin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diapiesin, because you want to become thoroughly cured this time.

To the Voters of the 48th District

I am a candidate for re-nomination on the republican ticket for representative of the 48th legislative district, consisting of Morrison and Crow Wing counties and respectfully solicit your support.

ws-w ELMER A. KLING.

FOR STATE SENATOR

To the Voters of Crow Wing and Morrison counties:—

I am a candidate for the republican nomination for state senator for the 48th district at the primary election to be held Sept. 20th, 1910.

My service in the senate during the past four years has given me valuable experience, wider acquaintances with public men, more extensive general information of the legislative needs of the state at large and special knowledge of what will be required by central and northern Minnesota, particularly this legislative district.

Because of these things I believe it is fair to say that I am better qualified and equipped to serve for another term than I was at the beginning of the present term.

I am heartily in accord with the principles and movement emphasized by the action of the Northern Minnesota Development Association, and as a matter of course have no hesitation in pledging myself to the most vigorous support of all measures designed to embody in law the resolutions adopted by the Benidji conference and endorsed by the Crookston convention.

My work in the last session against the tonnage tax bill should give sufficient assurance that I will unflinchingly oppose every proposed bill or measure of that character.

Fully appreciating the many kindnesses and courtesies extended to me by the voters of this district in the past, and being frank to say that I desire re-election for another term, assuring you that if nominated and elected I will continue to give the best that is in me for the people of this district and of the state, I venture to hope that your confidence in me will be expressed by your vote the 20th of September.

Respectfully yours,
S. F. ALDERMAN.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Milo N. Young, candidate for the republican nomination for representative from the 48th legislative district, comprising Crow Wing and Morrison counties. Have been a resident of Morrison county for over 35 years, and represented this district in the 1907 legislature. Have conscientiously worked for my district and will appreciate your support at the primary election Sept. 20th.

MILO N. YOUNG.

A MISMATED POET

The Tardy Marriage of Fitzgerald and Lucy Barton.

A UNION PITIFUL, YET COMIC

The Couple Were Utterly Unsited to One Another, and He Fled From Her During the Honeymoon—A Reunion That Failed to Reunite.

The incidents leading up to and those following the marriage of Edward Fitzgerald, translator of the "Omar Khayyam," were of a ludicrous and at the same time somewhat serious character. Mr. Francis Gribble gave the facts in the Fortnightly Review: "The Lucy Barton story is very pitiful, but it is also rather comic. She was a Quaker's daughter, who had joined the Church of England as a means, one imagines, of climbing the social ladder, and she was just the sort of person whom Fitzgerald would esteem, but detest—prim, pious, methodical, fussy, not quite a lady and yet in a weird provincial way worldly, the sort of person to whom it seems equally important to teach in the Sunday school and to be a leader of society.

"Fitzgerald and she had known each other for the greater part of their lives and were both nearly fifty years of age when marriage overtook them. He did not even know that he was engaged to her. But she told him that he was, and he was too polite to contradict her.

"Politeness only broke down when, after the ceremony, she assumed proprietorial airs and insisted that her husband should pay afternoon calls with her and dress for dinner. That was the last straw, though very likely it was also the first.

"Fitzgerald supposed apparently that in marrying Lucy Barton he had merely acquired a housekeeper who would know her place, who would confine her new dignity to her housekeeper's room, leaving him as free as of old to slop about in slippers, ease, unkempt, unshaven, enveloped in a dressing gown until the evening, with books all over the floor, pipes ash all over his clothes.

"It would not have mattered, of course, if he had married for love and if his bride had been a woman of grace and charm. Such a one would have changed all that like a fairy wand. But Fitzgerald had only married to oblige, and Mrs. Fitzgerald was not in the least like a fairy. She was more like a female drill sergeant, conventional, stiff and starched, yet with pretensions.

"Her flow of fussy small talk was a nuisance, and her interruption of Fitzgerald's meditations with the demand that he should shave and wear clean linen assumed the proportion of a tragedy in his eyes.

"He stood it for a fortnight and then fled, leaving the honeymoon unfinished, going off to stay with friends, bolting like a rabbit for its burrow.

"There were a reunion and an attempt at reconciliation, but in vain. Fitzgerald's letters to his friends at this period are like the letters home of a boy who is being bullied at school.

"I believe," he writes to Professor Cowell, "there are new channels fretted in my cheeks with many unmanly tears, and there really is no evidence that he had anything to cry about beyond the fact that he was being bullied out of a comfortable dressing gown into a starched shirt with high collars.

"That fact was symbolical of the general discrepancy of tastes and points of view. So we find him writing again, 'Till I see better how we get on, I dare fix on no place to live or die in,' and then before long came definite separation and the drafting of a deed of settlement.

"Fitzgerald, it is said, used long afterward to walk up and down a certain garden path for hours together calling himself a fool, and when in later years he met his wife again he first put out his hand and then changed his mind and turned his back."

The Scales on the Hair.

If you look at a human hair under the microscope you will find that its surface is formed of successive overlapping scales. The bristles of the hog bear much resemblance to the human hair, though their diameter is greater and the little scales are much finer. Sheep's hair has much coarser scales. It is owing to the existence of these scales that one is able by a peculiar process to tell which is the tip and which the other end of a hair rolling it between his finger and thumb. Thus manipulated the hair always travels in the direction of the base because the edges of the scales prevent it from going the other way.

An Ancient House.

The ancient Romans had a catapult that could hurl rocks more than a mile. "Now I understand it." "What?" My landlord told me the house was a stone's throw from the depot. He must have had it on his hands since the time of the Caesars.

A Complex Rest Cure.

"Bilgins is a very vociferous person." "Yes," replied Miss Cayenne, "but I don't blame him. The way a man of his mentality rests his nerves is by talking so loud he can't hear himself think."—Washington Star.

Center of Toughness.

Inquiring Tourist—Would you call this a tough town? Stray Native—Tough? Say, stranger, when we have old home week here detectives from all over the country come and pick out just who they want.—Puck.

Conscience.

Conscience is not an indicator of what is right. That is the province of wisdom based on knowledge. Conscience is the divine imperative impelling us to do what we believe to be right.

WORRY DOES KILL.

It Slowly but Surely Destroys the Cells of the Brain.

Modern science has brought to light nothing more curiously interesting than that worry will kill. More remarkable still, it has been able to determine just how worry does kill.

It is believed by many scientists who have followed carefully the growth of the science of brain diseases that scores of the deaths set down to their causes are due to worry and that alone. The theory is a simple one, so simple that any one can readily understand it.

Briefly put, it amounts to this: Worry injures beyond repair certain cells of the brain, and the brain being the nutritive center of the body, the other organs become gradually injured, and when some diseases of these organs or a combination of them arises death finally ensues.

Thus worry kills. Insidiously, like many other diseases, it creeps upon the brain in the form of a single, constant, never lost idea, and as a dropping of water over a period of years will wear a groove in the stone, so does worry gradually, imperceptibly and no less surely destroy the brain cells that lead all the rest, which are, so to speak, the commanding officers of mental power, health and motion.

Worry, to make the theory still stronger, is an irritant at certain points, which produces little harm if it comes at intervals or irregularly. Occasional worryment the brain can cope with, but the iteration and the reiteration of one idea of a disquieting sort the cells of the brain are not proof against.

It is as if the skull were laid bare and the surface of the brain struck lightly with a hammer every few seconds with mechanical precision, with never a sign of a stop or the failure of a stroke. Just in this way does the annoying idea, the maddening thought that will not be done away with, strike or fall upon certain nerve cells, never ceasing, diminishing the vitality of the delicate organisms that are so minute that they can be seen only under the microscope.—Journal of Physiological Therapeutics.

JUVENILE BLOCKHEADS.

Stupid Boys Who Developed Into World Famous Men.

There is quite a long record of famous men who in their boyhood were regarded as fools and dullards. Sir Walter Scott was called a "blockhead" by his mother. The mother of Brinsley Sheridan despaired of teaching him the simplest elements. Her death aroused him to activity and he became a scholar, philosopher, poet, wit, statesman and orator. Dean Swift, the keenest wit of his age, was "plucked" at Dublin university. Newton, Shakespeare, Michelangelo and Oliver Goldsmith all come in the category.

One day a slatternly woman rushed out of a little grocer's shop gripping an unkempt boy by the ear, and as she pulled him along she shouted to her neighbor:

"My heart is fairly broke with that brat, Tammy, and he is so stupid he can learn nothing."

That stupid brat Tammy became the poet Tom Moore.

In a country schoolhouse in Queen's county, Ireland, a boy with a blunt knife cut in the desk "A. W." the initials of his name. The teacher, who caught him in the act, cried out: "Stupid, you are better at cutting letters and destroying desks than you are at learning your lessons!"

That boy was Arthur Wellesley, known to fame as the Duke of Wellington, hero of Waterloo.

In the middle years of the last century, in St. Malachy's college, Belfast, a boy carved the letters "C. R." in the wood. The French professor reported him and declared that he "was besides a worthless boy, who would never amount to anything."

"I will amount to more than you!" returned the youth.

He did, for he became lord chancellor of England—Lord Russell of Kilgobbin.—London Graphic.

Some Famous Echoes.

There is a famous echo on the Rhine between Coblenz and Bingen which repeats a word seventeen times, while in the sepulcher of Metella, the wife of Sulla, in the Roman Campagna, there is an echo which repeats five times in different keys and will also give back with distinctness a hexameter line which requires two and a half seconds to utter. Brewster mentions an echo on the north side of Shipley church, in Sussex, England, which repeats twenty-one syllables.

His Peers.

"Pa, what does it mean to be tried by a jury of one's peers?" "It means, my son, that a man is to be tried by a jury composed of men, who are his equals or on an equality with him, so that they will have no prejudice against him."

"Then, pa, I s'pose you'd have to be tried by a jury of baldhead, 3 men."

The Widow.

"In a town," said a life insurance official, "where life insurance was a rare thing a schoolteacher said to a little boy pupil:

"Tommy, define the word widow." "A widow, Tommy answered, 'is a poor woman with a large family of children who takes boarders.'"

Painfully Frank.

Wedderly—They say that a man and his wife grow to look alike after they have been married a few years. Now, my wife and I have been married ten years. Do you think we look alike?

Singleton—Yes, indeed. You both seem to have the same sad expression.

Might Have Been Worse.

Rheumatic Patient—"Oh, doctor, I go suffer so with my hands and feet; Cheery Doctor—My dear woman, only think what inconvenience you would have to suffer without them.

The Earth.

Tommy—Pop, does the earth go round? Tommy's Pop—Yes, my son. But it wouldn't if it was divided among all the people who want it.—Philadelphia Record.
